CAUTION: This email originated from outside the Kiamichi Tech organization.

Shelley, apologies for the delayed response. There's really not a lot to update, we've had some amendments proposed to the project plan that the Commissioners are considering and they're still working through that. At some point we will bring the review committee back together for input but because we consider the amendments to be "minor" we don't have to go back through the public hearing process.

David,

I have been out of the loop and just wanted to follow up and check on the status of the Iren TID Project.

If you could share any update with me, I would appreciate it.

Thanks,
Shelley
